The Company shall not be under a duty to provide the Director with any work.

8. Salary and bonuses

- 8.1. The Company shall pay the Director an annual salary of £50,000.00 per annum by equal monthly instalments in arrears on the 26 of each month. The salary shall accrue on a daily basis and shall be inclusive of any directors' fees payable to the Director by the Company. - 8.3. The Director is not entitled to receive a bonus.
- 8.4. The Director authorises the Company at any time during his employment under this Agreement, or in any event, on the termination of the employment for whatever reason, to deduct from the Director's salary payment and/or any sums reimbursable to the Director by the Company any amount from time to time which the Director owes to the Company including but not limited to any outstanding loans, advances, payments for excess holiday and overpayment of wages and the Director expressly consents to any such deductions pursuant to Part II of the Employment Rights Act 1996. 10. Sickness

- 10.1. If the Director is absent from work due to Incapacity, he (or someone on his behalf) must notify the Company on the first day of absence. If the absence due to Incapacity lasts 7 calendar days or less, the Director must complete a self-certification form on his return to work. For absences due to Incapacity lasting more than 7 calendar days, the Director must produce a medical statement from his doctor stating the reason for his absence. The Director must keep the Company regularly informed of his absence and likely duration of his absence. Further medical statements are required for each further week of absence due to Incapacity. Failure to notify the Company of his absence may render the Director subject to disciplinary action and may also bar him from receiving sick pay.
- 10.2. Subject to the Company's right to terminate the employment under, and the Director's compliance with, this clause, the Director will be paid salary (inclusive of any Statutory Sick Pay (SSP)) and provided with all contractual benefits during absence due to his Incapacity for a total of 13 weeks in any period of 12 months. Thereafter any further payment in respect of absence due to the Director's Incapacity will be at the sole discretion of the Company, but will not be less than half of the Director's salary for a period of 15 weeks.

- 10.3. Any payments to which the Director is entitled under any social security scheme (whether or not claimed by the Director) may be deducted from any sick pay paid to the Director by the Company.
- 10.4. If the Incapacity is caused by the fault of a third party in respect of which compensation for loss of salary under this Agreement is or may be recovered, the Director will, if required by the Board, repay to the Company any money it has paid to him as salary for the same period of absence.
- 10.5. The Company at all times reserves the right to withhold, discontinue or request repayment of any contractual sick pay if:
 - 10.5.1. the Director fails to follow the Company's absence procedure;
 - 10.5.2. the Director is absent from work due to sickness or injury whilst he is the subject of any disciplinary action or performance management or has been suspended or is under investigation in connection with any matter with which he is involved.
 - 10.5.3. the Company is satisfied that there has been an abuse of the sick pay arrangements or misrepresentation of the Director's health; or
 - 10.5.4. the Director behaves in a way likely to delay, hinder or impede his recovery.
- 10.6. The Company may require the Director to undergo a medical examination by a medical practitioner appointed or approved by the Company and the Director authorises that medical practitioner to disclose to the Company and its advisers the results of the examination and discuss with them any matters arising from the examination which might impair the proper performance of the Director's duties.
- 10.7. If the Director is absent for a total period of 28 weeks (excluding annual and public holidays) in any period of 12 months due to Incapacity, the Company may terminate the employment immediately by notice in writing.

11. Holiday entitlement

- 11.1. The Director's entitlement will be pro-rated in the year of joining and leaving the Company.
- 11.2. The Director is entitled to 20 days' paid holiday in each Holiday Year.
- 11.3. The Director's holiday entitlement is inclusive of the bank and public holidays specified in the Schedule.
- 11.4. In the event that the government announces one or more unique extra bank or public holidays in addition to those specified in the Schedule (the 'extra days'), then the Company may, in its absolute discretion, temporarily increase the Director's total holiday entitlement to include some or all of the extra days for the holiday year in which they fall. The Company will confirm to the Director whether or not they will receive the extra days as holiday and if the extra days will be paid or unpaid. If the Company agrees to increase the Director's holiday entitlement in accordance with this clause, then it shall not be obliged to do the same in subsequent years where the government announces an extra bank or public holiday.
- 11.5. The Director shall give a minimum of 4 weeks' notice prior to the commencement of his holiday. Any application made at shorter notice will be considered on its merits and be subject to staffing requirements and the needs of the Company and may be refused. The Director must obtain the Board's prior approval to the dates on which he proposes to take his holiday.
- 11.6. The Director shall not take holiday at times when it conflicts with his duties under the Agreement.
- 11.7. The Company may require that the Director take his annual holiday entitlement during any public or statutory holiday period.
- 11.8. If the Director has not taken all their holiday entitlement by the end of the Holiday Year, then he shall be entitled to carry forward to the next holiday year such holiday entitlement as authorised by the Company. The Director shall not otherwise, except as required by law, be entitled to carry forward any other holiday entitlement to the next holiday year. There shall be no entitlement to pay in respect of accrued but not taken holiday except on termination of the employment.
- 11.9. The Director will be deemed to have used his statutory minimum holiday entitlement prior to any holiday entitlement he may be entitled to in excess of the statutory minimum.

- 11.10. A maximum of 2 weeks' may be taken at any one time (including weekends and bank and public holidays) unless the Director has the Board's prior written approval.
- 11.11. Requests for unpaid leave of absence will be considered on their merits and are subject to staffing requirements and the needs of the Company and may be refused.
- 11.12. If the Company has a shutdown period (whether at Christmas or on other days as notified by the Company) which applies to the Director, then the Director shall retain a sufficient number of days from his holiday entitlement to cover the shutdown period. No later than 6 months after the start of the holiday year, the Company shall notify the Director either individually or by way of a general notice to staff of the number of days' holiday to be retained.
- 11.13. The Company may require that the Director take any unused holiday entitlement during the period of any notice of termination of the employment.
- 11.14. Upon the termination of his employment, the Director will be entitled to a payment in lieu of any holiday which has accrued but not been taken. The Director will not accrue any contractual holiday entitlement during any period of notice (whether given by the Company or the Director), save that the Director's entitlement to annual leave pursuant to the Regulations shall continue to accrue during such period. If, on the termination of his employment, the Director has taken holidays in excess of his entitlement, the Company may deduct from his final salary payment an amount equal to the gross salary paid to him in respect of such holidays and the Director expressly consents to any such deductions.

12. Warranty and confidentiality

- 12.1. The Director warrants that he is entitled to work in the United Kingdom without any additional approvals and will notify the Company immediately if she/he ceases to be so entitled during the course of his employment.
- 12.2. The Director warrants that by entering into this Agreement or performing any of his obligations under it he will not be in breach of any court order or any express or implied terms of any contract with or of any other obligations to any third party and undertakes to indemnify the Company against any claims, costs, damages, liabilities or expenses which the Company may incur as a result if he is in breach of any such obligations.
- 12.3. The Director warrants that he is not subject to or is not currently involved in any proceedings which may result in him being subject to any restrictions which prevent him from holding office as a director.
- 12.4. The Director acknowledges that during the course of his employment, he will have access to and is likely to obtain Confidential Information.
- 12.5. Without prejudice to any common law duties owed to the Company, the Director agrees that he will not, during or after the employment, except as authorised by the Company or as required by law or his duties, use, divulge or disclose to any person, firm or organisation, any Confidential Information which may come to his knowledge during the employment. The Director further agrees to use his best endeavours to prevent the unauthorised use or disclosure of such information.
- 12.6. The Director shall not print out or copy any Confidential Information (including without limitation, creating paper copies, scanned copies and copying to an electronic storage device), or transfer Confidential Information to his personal email account or an email account of a third party, except as authorised by the Company or as required by his duties.
- 12.7. This restriction will not apply to information which becomes public (other than through unauthorised disclosure by the Director), and is not intended to exclude or restrict his right to make a protected disclosure under the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.
- 12.8. Unless it is an expressly agreed part of the Director's duties, the Director will not, without the prior written consent of the Board, communicate with any press, radio or television representative on any issue relating to the business or affairs of the Company or to any officers, employees, customers or clients of the Company.

13. Pension

- 13.1. The Company has no pension scheme applicable to the Director's employment. However, it shall facilitate access to a designated pension scheme to the extent that it is required to do so as a matter of law.

14. Intellectual property and inventions

- 14.1. The Director will promptly communicate to the Company full written details of any Inventions to the Company on their creation. All Intellectual Property Rights in the Inventions will belong to the Company.
- 14.2. The Director will keep confidential and not disclose to any other party or exploit any Invention unless authorised by the Company or in the proper performance of his duties.
- 14.3. The Director will, at the Company's request and in any event on the termination of his employment, give to the Company all originals and copies of all correspondence, materials, files, documents, papers, manuals, data, information and reports held on any and all media which record or relate to all and any Inventions and Intellectual Property Rights in the Inventions.
- 14.4. The Director hereby assigns to the Company to the extent allowed by law all his existing and future rights (including Intellectual Property Rights), title and interests in all Inventions and agrees not to attempt to register any patents or other Intellectual Property Rights in the Inventions unless requested by the Company.
- 14.5. To the extent that any right in such Inventions may not be assigned to the Company, the Director will hold all such rights on trust for the Company and agrees not to attempt to register any patents or other Intellectual Property Rights in the Inventions unless requested by the Company.
- 14.6. In any event, at the request and expense of the Company, the Director will give it all information and assistance as may be necessary to enable the Company effectively to exploit the Intellectual Property Rights, and will execute all documents and do all things which may be necessary to vest all such rights in the Company (or as it may direct) as legal and beneficial owner and to secure appropriate protection for all such rights anywhere in the world.
- 14.7. The Director hereby irrevocably appoints the Company to take any action in his name and execute any document on his behalf for the purpose of giving to the Company (or its nominee) the full benefit of the provisions of this clause. If there is any doubt as to whether such a document or action has been executed or carried out within the authority conferred by this clause, a certificate in writing signed by any director or the secretary of the Company will be conclusive evidence that such is the case.
- 14.8. The Director waives all of his moral rights (as defined in the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988) and any corresponding foreign rights in respect of all Inventions where the Intellectual Property Rights belong to the Company by virtue of this clause, to the extent that such waiver is permitted by law.
- 14.9. The Director will promptly notify the Company in writing if he becomes aware of any infringement or suspected infringement of any Intellectual Property Rights in any Invention and agrees to give all necessary assistance to the Company to enable it to enforce its Intellectual Property Rights against any third party or to defend claims for infringement by a third party.
- 14.10. The Director accepts and agrees that, except as provided by law, no further payment, remuneration or compensation other than that provided for in this Agreement is or may become due to him in respect of his compliance with this clause. This clause is without prejudice to the Director's rights under the Patents Act 1977.
- 14.11. Rights and obligations under this clause will survive the termination of the employment in respect of Inventions made during the employment and will be binding on the Director's personal representatives.

15. Termination of employment

- 15.1. The Company may terminate the employment of the Director without notice or (in our sole discretion) payment in lieu of notice if the Director:

- 15.1.1. is guilty of any gross default or misconduct in connection with or affecting the business of the Company;

- 15.1.12. ceases to be a director of the Company without the consent of the Board.
- 15.2. If the employment is terminated in accordance with this clause, the Director will have no claim for damages or any other remedy against the Company by reason of such termination.
- 15.3. Upon the termination of the employment however it may occur, or if the Director shall cease for any reason to be a director of the Company, the Director shall:
 - 15.3.1. resign immediately without compensation from the office of director of the Company; and
 - 15.3.2. cease to represent or hold himself out as a director of the Company or otherwise still connected with it.
- 15.4. Upon termination of the employment for whatever reason or at the request of the Company, the Director shall immediately hand over the Company's Property to the Company, including without limitation all Confidential Information, and any keys, security cards, credit cards and other property of the Company (including in particular any car, computer equipment or mobile phone provided to the Director) which may be in his possession, custody, care or control and shall provide a signed statement that he has complied fully with the terms of this clause. - 15.7. The Company reserves the right, at its sole and absolute discretion, to pay salary in lieu of any required period of notice (whether given by the Director or the Company), less any deductions the Company is required to make by law.
- 15.8. The Company may, in its sole and absolute discretion, terminate the Director's employment at any time and with immediate effect by notifying the Director that the Company is exercising its right under this clause and that the Company will pay a sum in lieu of notice equal to the salary (as at the date of termination) which the Director would have been entitled to receive under this Agreement between the date of termination and the earliest date the employment could otherwise have been lawfully terminated, less income tax and National Insurance contributions. The payment in lieu of notice will be made within 28 days after termination.
- 15.9. If, within 6 months after the termination of this Agreement, the Company learns that the Director had committed a previously undiscovered act of gross misconduct that would have resulted in the Director's summary dismissal during his employment, then the payment in lieu of notice referred to in clause 15.8 that has already been paid, or that has been agreed to be paid by the Company in contemplation of termination of the employment shall (as the case may be):

- 15.9.1. Be repayable by the Director on demand as a debt;
- 15.9.2. Not become a debt payable to or enforceable by the Director and the Director shall forfeit all entitlement to any payments due from the Company.
- 15.10. With the exception of statutory family-related leave or accrued holiday entitlement due to sickness, any unused holiday entitlement on termination of employment will be calculated at the rate of pay that applied to the Director during the period in which it accrued, which may not necessarily be the rate of pay applicable on the date of termination.
- 15.11. At no time after the termination of the employment shall the Director directly or indirectly represent himself as being interested in or employed by or in any way connected with the Company, other than as a former employee or director of the Company.

16. Suspension

- 16.1. The Company reserves the right at any time to suspend the Director from the performance of some or all of his duties under this Agreement in connection with any investigation or matter with which he is involved, including without limitation, if the Company reasonably believes that the Director is in breach of this Agreement, for such period as the Company in its absolute discretion shall decide.
- 16.2. During any period of suspension:
 - 16.2.1. the Director shall, if requested by the Company, refrain from contacting or communicating with employees, customers, clients and professional contacts of the Company;
 - 16.2.2. the Company shall be entitled to make such announcements or statements to employees, customers, clients and professional contacts of the Company or any other third parties concerning the Director as the Company in its absolute discretion shall decide; and
 - 16.2.3. the Company shall be under no obligation to provide any work for the Director and the Director shall continue to be bound by the express and implied duties of the employment.

17. Garden leave

Once notice to terminate the employment has been given by either party in accordance with this Agreement or if the Director resigns without giving the required period of notice and the Company does not accept that resignation, the following provisions will apply for such period as the Company in its absolute discretion may decide:

The Director must not retain any copies or extracts of such property;
- 17.6. the Company may require the Director not to have any contact or communication with any of its employees, customers, clients or professional contacts in relation to the business of the Company;

- 17.7. the Company may make such announcements or statements to any of the employees, customers, clients or professional contacts of the Company or any other third parties concerning the Director as it in its absolute discretion may decide;
- 17.8. the Company may require the Director immediately to resign without claim for compensation from any office which he holds in the Company.
